The Invesco Peak II Index (“the Index”) is a multi-asset, target volatility index. The Index combines equity exposure via Invesco US Quality Index with a focus on high-quality large- and mid-cap companies along with dynamic bond exposure that adjusts between short and intermediate US Treasury bond futures trackers as interest rate conditions change. The index aims to maintain a 7.5% volatility level by utilizing Salt Financial’s truVol methodology.

Source: Invesco Indexing. December 31, 2003, to January 31, 2025. The Invesco Peak II Index was launched on November 1, 2024. All data prior to a launch date is back-tested (i.e., calculations of how the index might have performed over that time period had the index existed). Back-tested performance is subject to inherent limitations because it reflects retroactive application of an index methodology and selection of index constituents with the benefit of hindsight. Past performance, actual or back-tested, is no guarantee of future performance. Annualized Volatility is the standard deviation of monthly returns.

*The performance reduction is a return adjustment to facilitate higher crediting rates within annuity & insurance products. These adjustments are tailored to annuity and life insurance products with the aim of stabilizing crediting rates over time. Estimated Replication Costs will vary as index allocations change. Please see the Index Calculation section of the index methodology for more information on index cost calculations.

Historical Asset Allocation

Important Information

There is no guarantee the 7.5% volatility target will be met. Standard Deviation measures a range of total returns and identifies the spread of short-term fluctuations.

Sharpe Ratio is a risk-adjusted measure calculated using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk. A higher Sharpe ratio indicates better risk-adjusted performance.

Diversification does not guarantee a profit or eliminate the risk of loss.

The information provided is for informational purposes only and should not be construed as an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments, or a recommendation for any security or fund interest. Invesco Indexing LLC is not an investment adviser or fiduciary and makes no representation regarding the advisability of investing in any security or strategy. There can be no assurance that an investment strategy based on the Invesco Indexes will be successful.

Indexes are unmanaged and it is not possible to invest directly in an Index. Exposure to an asset class or trading strategy represented by an Index is only available through investable instruments (if any) based on that Index. Invesco Indexing LLC does not issue, sponsor, endorse, market, offer, review or otherwise express any opinion regarding any fund, derivative or other security, financial product or trading strategy that is based on, linked to or seeks to track the performance of any Invesco Indexing LLC Index.

Invesco Indexing LLC is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Invesco Ltd. The group is legally, technologically and physically separate from other business units of Invesco, including the various global investment centers.
